

How does media affect women?

“I am about to rock your world,” who is going to do that? Obviously a girl. If a girl could make a boy’s life beautiful, why does media make people hate women by showing them negatively in to our society? Media sends messages in our society through songs, movies and ads media sends the messages to men they should be violent toward girls and for women, if they want to become pretty they should be naked and skinny. These messages hurt women a lot because through media’s messages men become misogynistic and objectify and subordinate women.

First reason women get hurt a lot by media’s messages is because media sends message to women that women should show their smartness by their sexy body not with their talents. According to the song “God made girls”, it says “somebody’s gotta wear a pretty skirt, somebody’s gotta be the one to flirt.” This mean, girls should wear shorts, they should wear something that shows their body that boys could see. Moreover it says girl is the one who manipulate boys. They play with love. They act amorously without any serious intention with boys. In addition it also connect to “sexism in head line,” it says “magazines make money by picking on women’s look media said.” this mean media think women’s look are very important than their talents. As you can see that in media women has no value. They only know how to blow boy’s mind and they knows to play with emotions. Today still media objectifies women by showing them in a negative way.

The second reason women get hurt a lot by media because media shows that women are under control by men. They are not equal as boys. According to the song “god made girls” it says, that “somebody’s gotta be the one to cry, somebody ‘s gotta let him drive, give him a reason to hold that doors so got made girls.” These mean girls should be like a crybaby who always cry. They are fool because they doesn’t know how to drive. They aren’t strong enough to hold a door. In addition it also connect to our class advertisement that shows a girl is looking confuse while she driving. This mean the girl is trying to drive but she cannot do it. She is afraid of driving a car. She doesn't have ability to control a car. As you can see media shows that women are not equal as a men. They doesn't have ability to act like a men. Today still media subordinate women by saying they are useless.

However one opposing claim that not only women are hurt by media, men are also affect by media because media tell man that they should gain a pretty girl who should obey to them. According to song it says, " to walk downstairs and blow him mind." These mean boys should have beautiful and sexy girl who can have sex with them. This claim is weak because boys could control their eyes from women. They should not look at women how they dress or how they talk and walk. It's not women fault. They could wear whatever they want. As you can see women are hurt more by media than men because in media women are not seeing as a human in our society they are shown as a sexy objects.

In conclusion, women are hurt a lot by media because they were objectified and subordinate in our society. Media sends message to women that they should wear sexy clothes to look pretty and their looks is most important. Moreover media shoes women are under control by boys, they are not equal as boys. Today Media shows skinny and pretty women through movies and advertisement to affect women health. Women are affecting their health by eating disorder. Today still media doesn't see men and women equally.
